Dear Parents/Carers

This week:

- On average this week attendance has been around 93.5%.
- We have been made aware that some of the children in Opals and Golds have been sharing unkind messages on social media and Whatsapp. I would ask all parents to monitor their child's activity on their phones to keep everyone safe. We are looking at apps to share with parents in order to help you, as this is impacting on their learning.
- Gold Class had their first African Drumming workshop this week which we are hoping will be part of their Leavers' Service activity.
- Please make sure that you know key dates for your child from last week's newsletter.
- We are back on the field at break and lunchtimes and the children are enjoying using all of the space.

Next week:

- We still have items available in our school uniform sale. Please check ParentMail.
- A reminder to Silver Class parents that when your child moves into the Juniors in September they will be required to wear a V-necked sweatshirt and a tie. There are a number of these still available to purchase via the ParentMail shop.
- Our Time For Talk meetings are scheduled for Wednesday (Google Meets) and Thursday (Face-to-Face).
- Rubies have their first class trip to the Hogsmill River on Friday to support their topic of 'The human and physical geography of a small local area'.

We hope you all have a good weekend.
